Election set on political signs after input from city's residents

The oftentimes controversial banning of political signs will face Romulus voters as an advisory question, possibly during the city primary election Sept. 10.

Action last Wednesday by city council unanimously approved placing the issue on the ballot. However, with a primary election looking dimmer with each passing day, vote on the political sign ban could be postponed until an even later date.

(Thus far, with the number of candidates who have taken out filing petitions for all offices, no primary would be necessary if two of the remaining four candidates for the mayoral nomination should withdraw.)

With council member Gerry Canejo absent and council member James Raspberry abstaining, council voted 5-0 to place the issue on the ballot following discussion on the subject.

Mel Morgan, business developer and announced candidate for the mayoral nomination, hit the proposed political sign ban as an infringement of the rights of individuals under the first amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Jean Voight, member of the city's Beautification Committee, which recommended revision of the city sign ordinance to ban political signs at the June 12 council session, expressed the group's concern.

She cited the ill will generated in city neighborhoods by the blight and litter which she said followed erection of political signs. She stressed that the committee was not trying to stir up political turmoil with its effort to ban the signs.

Mrs. Voight said the committee understood that if passed by council the political sign ban most likely would not take effect until after the city election.

Councilman Raspberry declared it was a right of free expression to put up political signs and that any attempt to restrict that right was a violation of the U.S. Constitution.

Council member Beverly McNally pointed out that all laws infringe upon someone's rights, but that they are needed for the greater good of society. She praised the Beautification Committee's efforts and concern to have political signs banned.

Mrs. McNally said the public should express their wishes on the political sign ban and made the motion to have it placed on the ballot as an advisory proposition.

Council member Mary Carter said she believed once the people had spoken council could better decide on the matter. (An advisory vote by the people would not be binding on council.)

Some eight years ago, according to Clerk Leonard J. Folmar, city council voted down the political sign ban following strong opposition by several political groups in the city.

In a memorandum June 21, 1979 to Mayor William M. Oakley and city council, Charles M. Lowther, city attorney, said none of the neighboring cities — Wayne, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor or Birmingham — "is absolutely enforcing an absolute prohibition of political yard signs."

Although Lowther said he was in agreement with city planners who advocated regulation of political signs, he commented, "However, an absolute prohibition may not be legally supportable unless it is 'across the board', i.e. the total prohibition of yard signs, including real estate 'for sale' and 'sold' signs."

Waivers ruled okay

Employees can move, stay on city payroll

Hardship waivers can be granted to Romulus city employees who move out of the city as well as to those hired by the city and waiting to move in, Charles Lowther, city attorney, has informed city council and Mayor William M. Oakley.

His opinion thus backed action taken by council last April 10 when it voted to waive the residency requirement for Mrs. Jo Lynn Debuyscher, a deputy assessor working for City Assessor David Krause.

The assessor had requested the waiver under a provision of the city's residency ordinance which was passed in 1970, stating her loss to his office would be a hardship to the city.

Previously, persons hired by the city of Romulus were given waivers allowing them time to sell homes in another locality and move into the city. But, until the waiver given Mrs. Debuyscher, no one had been given one that would permit them to move out of the city and stay on the city payroll.

In response to a request from council for an opinion, the city attorney cited Chapter 2, Article 7,

Section 2.03 (b) of the residency ordinance which states:

"The city council of the city of Romulus may upon application of any person or department suspend the provisions of this ordinance as to any employee for any of the following reasons: Hardship."

Lowther contended Krause's request was "properly made" inasmuch as it asked to continue Mrs. Debuyscher's employment eligibility and that hardship was "well documented."

Further, the city attorney stated, Mrs. Debuyscher fitted properly into the category of "any employee or potential employee" mentioned in Section 2.00 of the ordinance.

"Therefore, it is my opinion that the city council unquestionably acted within the provisions of its authority in granting the subject waiver," he further concluded.

Some employees at city hall are of the opinion that the action by council granting a residency waiver to Mrs. Debuyscher could act as a precedent, with other city employees wanting to move out of the community and pleading hardship.

Fireworks show set

The Fourth of July will be celebrated in Belleville Wednesday with a ski and water show off Horizon Park at night followed by a spectacular fireworks display on Fireworks Island.

Thousands of spectators are anticipated to line the shores of Horizon Park along High Street to witness daring ski aerobatics performed by the Belleville Lake Water Ski Club.

Belleville-Van Buren Jaycees Saturday began a cleanup of Fireworks Island for the group's annual picnic on the afternoon of July 4, prior to the fireworks show.

Following the picnic, Jaycees again will clean up the island in preparation for the display of fireworks. As in past years Jaycees will be in charge of shooting off a varied assortment of rockets, flares and other colorful fireworks.

Cost of the fireworks is borne by half of the proceeds received from the sale of 50-50 raffle tickets, with the other half being given away as five first place prizes in a raffle drawing Wednesday.

Last year, five persons each won $200 in the July 4th raffle drawing.

Plaque to R.C. Hoerner for work in behalf of scouts

Richard C. Hoerner, a veteran airline official, and American Airlines' vice president-Detroit since 1975, last week was awarded a Boy Scouts of America plaque at his office in Detroit Metro Airport.

He is responsible for all of the airline's passenger and freight sales and services activities in the Detroit area. He assumed the regional position in 1975 after serving two years as vice president-passenger services in American's general offices in New York.

The plaque was presented by John S. Trupell, export parts sales manager of Detroit Diesel Allison in Romulus for Hoerner's efforts in behalf of scouting.

Hoerner's association with American began in April 1940, when he joined the company as a reservations agent in New York City. He rose through the ranks in reservations and passenger sales positions. In 1962 he was appointed system director of passenger services. He became the airline's New York area general manager in 1967, and four years later was appointed Atlantic Division vice president.

A native of Mount Vernon, N.Y.,

Hoerner served in the U.S. Air Force during World War II. He is a graduate of New York University.

He is president of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, and is a director of the Economic Club of Detroit, the Metropolitan Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau, the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Assn., and the Travelers Aid Society of Detroit. He serves on the board of governors of the Greater Michigan Foundation.

Public hearing July 17

Trouton Drain to be 'aired'

Romulus City Council last week approved July 17 as date for a public hearing to discuss abatement of pollution in the Trouton Drain in the north central part of the city.

Set for 7 p.m. the public hearing will probe ways that the stench from the storm drain, a long-time nuisance to nearby residents, can be stopped.

Included in the resolution introduced by Councilman James Raspberry was the sending of copies to Sen. William Faust, Cong. William Ford, Rep. Edward Mahalak, state Department of Natural Resources, Charles Youngblood, member of the Wayne County Drain Commission; state Board of Health; Wayne County Health Department; Wayne County Air Pollution Board; state and federal EPAs; U.S. Corps of Engineers; city attorney; city engineer; and residents who live near Trouton Drain.

In efforts to pinpoint and identify causes of pollution to the drain, which recovers rain water, a chemical company has been mentioned by some to be responsible, according to a spokesman at city hall.

Two years ago, the city spent about $50,000 to remove polluted soil near the drain and reshaped replaced soil. Believed corrected, today the smell emanating from Trouton Drain is said by some area residents to be just as bad or worse.

Although efforts have been ongoing to clean the drain and probe possible sources of pollution, the attempts have been to no avail.

Public input gathered at the June 17 public hearing is hoped to shed new light on conditions at Trouton Drain and help in bringing an end to the problems there.

Michigan Artrain to visit in area

Michigan Artrain, a touring art museum housed in six specially designed railroad cars, the only one of its kind in the nation will be stopping in Huron Township Oct. 13-19 at the Waltz siding.

Most especially, visitors will have the satisfaction of contributing to an arts experience for the area schools, because funding for field trips has become almost totally non-existent. The schools will have the chance to develop programs dealing specifically with the history and development of our nation's art and culture, and experience first hand outstanding American art and craft — historical and contemporary — as well as observing the skills of the on-board artists.

Romulus clerk gets post

Romulus Clerk Leonard J. Folmar has been elected as third vice president of the Municipal Clerks Association of Michigan during the group's recent 40th annual workshop at Bellaire, Mich. Folmar, shown in his office at Romulus City Hall, is the first black elected to the board of the clerks association and last year was the first black to hold office in the organization when he was elected trustee. The workshop was attended by 130 municipal clerks from throughout Michigan. (Photo by Tom Greenwood, ANP staff photographer.)

Scouts help city cleanup

of Ann Manikowski, were able to purchase the flowers through a contribution by the Friends of the Library. Other scout troops will be cleaning up designated areas throughout the city beginning next weekend as part of the city's cleanup campaign. (Photo by Jay Young.)

Pucksters too much

Sportscasters bow in softball benefit

The Detroit Red Wings softball team proved to be too much Saturday afternoon for the Detroit Sportscasters Association by the score of 13-6 in a celebrity benefit game at Elmer Johnson Park in Romulus.

Proceeds of the game amounted to $700 and went to the Romulus North Little League, Red Wing For'em Club, Youth Hockey Fund, and the Detroit Sportscasters Association scholarship fund.

Revenue from a 50-50 raffle produced $80 to help victims of muscular dystrophy.

Some 300 spectators saw the softball team, composed of members of the professional hockey club of the same name, mop up celebrity sportscasters in the annual softball contest.

Red Wing stars included: Willie Huber, Jimmy Rutherford, Paul Woods, J.P. LeBlanc, Coach Bobby Kromm and Assistant Coach Billy Dea.

Area sportscasters included: Ron Cameron, WXYZ; Bob Page, WJZZ; and Mark Andrews, WOMC.

Serving as publicity chairman for the Red Wing For'em Club was Dennis Davidson.

ANP publisher picked for meet at White House

David J. Willett, publisher of the Associated Newspapers Inc., has been appointed to serve as a delegate to the White House Conference on Small Business.

The appointment recently was announced by Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District).

Willett, 36, also serves as the Wayne Chamber of Commerce's president.

He explained the purpose of the Washington conference, saying: "President Carter, during his business career, received help from the SBA. He recognizes that small business provides half of the jobs in the country, and that the employment growth, has been and will be, coming from small businesses."

"The President also recognizes that small businesses across this country are in trouble and are in dire need of some kind of relief," Willett continued. "Hopefully, some of the problems of small businesses will be resolved at this conference."

The conference will be held Jan. 14-16, 1980, in Washington D.C. Some 2,000 delegates across the country are expected to attend. A delegate is either appointed by a member of Congress—as in Willett's case—or elected by representatives in attendance at each of the conferences held in states or regions. Delegates will attend at their own expense.

"Michigan was to have 15 elected delegates," Willett said. "However, those in attendance at a recent meeting in Detroit were informed that because of the overwhelming response as evidenced by the number in attendance, Michigan would be allowed to elect 25 delegates instead."

DAVID J. WILLETT

Willett said, "It is the hope that the conference in January will produce new laws, and the redrafting of regulations giving small businessmen relief that will help them to survive."

Plant comes to Wayne

The suspension of production of diesel engines at a plant in Canton, Ohio will have positive repercussions this fall in Wayne.

Massey-Ferguson Ltd. announced this week that its Perkins Diesel Corp. subsidiary will suspend production at the Ohio engine plant on October 31 and move its headquarters to its company facility in Wayne.

"We will be moving some of our personnel in marketing and engineering to our offices in Wayne," said Bill Kelsey, General Public Relations Manager for MFL, North American Operations.

Massey-Ferguson operates a plant in Wayne which produces transmissions. It has a 72,000 square foot, two-story office building located next to its plant on Van Born and Venoy Roads which has been standing vacant since two tenants—the Wayne County Intermediate School District and American Motors (AMF) moved out.

Asked whether the diesel engine manufacturing operation would also be switched to Wayne, Kelsey replied, "No. The diesel engines currently produced in Canton will be supplied from our Perkins plants in Peterborough, England."

Local officials were "extremely pleased" by the news.

"We feel it is a great move," said Tom Daily, assistant city manager for Wayne. "It will add to the workforce in this city and area and cut unemployment. It will also fill the vacant space in the unoccupied portion of the present facility."

Mayor Paul Lada was also "extremely delighted about the bit of good news for our city."

"We are happy, naturally, to hear about Massey-Ferguson's move," said Mayor Lada. "We have been aware of the pending move by the company, and pleased by verification of this information."

In brief

Raspberry wants roads repaired

Councilman James Raspberry last week introduced a resolution calling upon the Wayne County Road Commission to take immediate action to improve the "intolerable conditions" of roads maintained in Romulus by the commission. Raspberry cited in particular Wayne and Middlebelt roads. With council member Gerry Canejo absent, his resolution was passed unanimously 6-0.

Lauds free baby seats

Free safety car seats given by insurance companies to families with infants or toddlers which they insure was lauded by Van Buren Township Sup. Pat Cullin. She cited the policy of League General Insurance Company of Southfield as commendable in its efforts to stem the leading cause of death or serious injury to children under five years of age. League General stated that in 1977 more than 900 children under five were killed and another 58,000 disabled while riding in automobiles.

Mrs. Cullin suggested that persons seek to have the insurance carrier covering their children to provide such safety free seats at no charge.

Golf lessons offered

Starting Monday, July 9, 1979 at Van Buren Park, township residents can participate in golf lessons given by a professional golfer.

The course consists of six one hour lessons starting with golf etiquette and progressing through grip and stance, irons and woods, pitching and chipping. Students hit about 75 balls per class. The cost is $25.00 per student for the six lessons; class size will average about 10 students. Classes will meet twice a week for three weeks. The fourth week is used for makeup due to rainouts.

Two classes are scheduled: one class at 6:30 p.m. and one class at 7:30 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays. Clubs or balls will be provided for those without them.

Students must sign up for the class at the Parks and Recreation Department at Van Buren Township Hall. Questions can be answered by calling 699-2001.

Youth makes astronomical discovery

A Belleville resident's 18-year-old grandson is making a name for himself in the field of astronomy.

While working recently at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D.C., Russell Carroll, grandson of Mrs. John Tenoni, discovered low-level radiation coming from a contact binary star (two stars which are almost touching).

Previously, conventional theory had maintained that such stars are too cool to emit X-ray radiation. It took young Carroll quite some time to convince professional astronomers that his findings were correct.

A physics major at Oakland University who lives in Rochester, Carroll said his discovery will open a new field of astronomy.

His findings at age 17 drew praise from Beverly Berger, one of his college instructors, and Ray Cruddace, an astrophysicist at Naval Research Laboratory.

The young man's interest in astronomy began after he and his brother built a telescope and studied the heavens for five years.

The youngster has his eye on the U.S. space shuttle program, which he feels provides an excellent opportunity for experiments and observations in X-ray astronomy.

Repair of dam to start soon

Renovation of the old French Landing Dam was assured last week when a contract to perform the engineering work was awarded to Ayres, Lewis, Narris and Mays of Ann Arbor by the Van Buren Township Board.

Construction will be done by the O'Neal Construction Co., also of Ann Arbor.

Under the contract approximately $3.6 million in repairs and installation of new generating equipment will breathe new life into the dam once used by the Detroit Edison Co. as a source of electrical power.

The old dam, now used only to regulate the level of water in Belleville Lake, was chosen by the U.S. Dept. of Energy as a model project for restoration of small dams throughout the nation.

The township has been recruiting persons 18-19 years of age to work in the pre-apprentice program specified by the U.S. Dept. of Labor as a requisite which had to be met to receive federal grants to finance the bulk of the project.

Once in full swing, some 80 young workers will receive on-the-job training that will prepare them to enter apprentice programs with Detroit and area trade unions.

Training on the job will be given under the Trade Union Leadership Council which will also handle the hiring of workers, development of the course curriculum, helping to screen applicants for the training program, and recording hours on the job.

Van Buren Township will serve as the local management agency. Its subcontracting of engineering work to the Ann Arbor firm represents a joint venture in the design, construction, purchase of construction materials, on-site supervision, and hiring of journeymen to train pre-apprentice workers.

Pre-apprentices working on the dam will learn the trades of laborers, masons, carpenters, millwrights, operating engineers, painters, and electricians.

Classroom study, on-the-job training, and level of supervision will vary with each trade. In some instances 30 trainees will be taught by one instructor, while on-the-job training sometimes will be on a one-to-one basis between journeyman and trainee.

Overall average on the dam project will be one supervisor to six trainees, according to Sup. Pat Cullin.

In addition to work on the dam, the bridge south of the dam also will be repaired. If time permits, trainees also will help in cleaning up the park area around French Landing Dam in a program aimed at beautifying the locale, she explained.

In addition to funds received from the U.S. Dept. of Labor, other monies will come from community development grant funds which will be used for in-kind match, the time spent by township employees on the dam project.

An estimated $1.6 million is anticipated in grants for the first year of the project, with about a million dollars coming in during the next two years, the supervisor said.

Results of a study made for the township revealed that when completed, the dam will earn a small profit in addition to providing badly-needed electrical power to ease the nation-wide energy crisis.

Improved electrical generators will permit the old dam to produce more power than was possible during its heyday under Detroit Edison. The giant utility deeded the old dam to the township several years ago with the proviso that Van Buren not use it to generate electrical power.

However, Edison since has agreed to forgo the restriction in view of the awarding of the federal grants for its renovation and the opportunity for the dam to help out in the energy crunch.

Account changes started

First Federal Savings of Detroit has implemented changes in savings accounts authorized recently by federal banking agencies on July 1, the date these changes take effect, it was announced today by James A. Aliber, chairman and chief executive officer.

"The interest on our regular savings accounts will be increased to 5.5 percent, which is the new ceiling on passbook and regular statement account rates," Aliber said. "First Federal also will issue the newly authorized 4-year certificate savings accounts, with interest rates tied to money-market rates, when they become available on July 1."

The rate on these new certificates will be one percentage point less than the average yield on 4-year Treasury securities.

The federal regulators also eliminated minimum denominations, previously $1,000, on all certificate savings accounts except the $10,000 6-month "money market" accounts. Each financial institution now is allowed to establish its own minimum denominations.

In response to this move, Aliber announced that "as of July 1, the minimum denomination for First Federal's certificate savings accounts will be only $100, including the new 4-year account."

Job tax credit offered

Employers can get a substantial "tax break" by qualifying for the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit, the Internal Revenue Service said. Unlike the New Jobs Credit which it replaces, the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit is not subject to the $100,000 overall limitation.

Claiming the credit on a federal income tax return may be worth up to an additional $3,000 per certified employee for the employee's first year of employment and up to $1,500 per certified employee for the employee's second year of employment.

The Targeted Jobs Tax Credit is based on the wages of certain workers hired before that date, and is a percentage of wages paid to them between Jan. 1, 1979, and Dec. 31, 1980.

These employees must be certified as members of any of seven economically and socially disadvantaged groups before the credit may be claimed, the IRS said. Generally, these groups include certain handicapped individuals, Vietnam-era veterans, welfare recipients, ex-convicts, and certain groups of young people.

Local agencies which will certify members of these target groups are the state employment service and qualified schools offering a qualified cooperative education program.

More information about the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit is found in Publication 906, "Targeted Jobs Tax Credit and WIN Credit", which is free from the IRS by calling your IRS tax assistance number.

The first musical instrument known to mankind is the human voice, still one of the most versatile and most used. Another popular and inexpensive instrument that anyone can play is the hands, clapped together. In many cultures, it is not only hands that are clapped together but hands slapping other parts of the body, whether in their own rhythm or part of a dance. A practiced clapper can get a tremendous variety of sounds from the slapping action by changing the shape of the cup of the hand, varying the angle and intensity of the slap, and hitting various parts of the body.

If you want a versatile instrument for complete musical fun we suggest you come over to DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484 and ask for a demonstration of one of our Lowrey organs. ### NEA interests

After a period of declining silence, the NEA has again surfaced to proclaim their message of 'gloom and doom' in the wake of California's Proposition 13.

Meeting at Detroit's Cobo Hall for their convention of delegates to elect new leadership, the association noted for telling it the way they see it, not necessarily the way it is, has scheduled speakers for the purpose of scaring the Proposition 13 right out of any right leaning wayward members who may not yet be convinced that what's good for the NEA is good for the country.

One of those speakers, California teacher George Brooke, will be speaking to the assembled 9,000 delegates on the after-shock to education caused by his states approval of Proposition 13.

Weaving a tale of horror; vandalism, violence, and the increasing trauma associated with his profession, Brooke tells of how his school system's educational process is deteriorating. Poor teacher moral, growing lack of discipline and overworked staff with inadequate supplies, according to Brooke, all are the result of the state's adoption of tax reform.

But the real message Brooke appears to be carrying for the NEA is that any state foolish enough to adopt similar tax reform will suffer the same ailments.

While none of us should be surprised by the pronouncement of the group which spent more than $600,000 to defeat Michigan tax reform, we are once more distressed to think of our children in the hands of people who so freely take advantage of the truth.

Perhaps, what Brooke should be telling those 9,000 delegates to the NEA convention, is how to deal with those problems he so graphically described.

Because, even without the benefits of a Proposition 13 tax package, our schools still manage to suffer the same problems that California's do.

Vandalism, violence, and poor teacher morale are all items we have been forced to deal with for some time.

The idea that the solution to school problems is a massive infusion of dollars is no more valid than the idea that HUD could give away homes and create neighborhoods.

While the NEA and others are looking for the one magic solution to their problems, they have overlooked the fact that there are many problems. Each problem required time and indifference to reach today's magnitude.

Only the application of time and caring can resolve them.

But for any organization that rewards indifference and penalizes excellence to call itself professional, probably indicates how our schools managed to work themselves to the depths they have so efficiently achieved.

So mix 9,000 NEA delegates, self interest as opposed to community interest, and the constant pursuit for 'security' — that elusive even imaginary commodity which substitutes self for society — and the result is today's problems.

John F. Kennedy once said, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but rather ask, what can I do for my country."

We suggest that the 9,000 NEA delegates in Detroit ask not what the system can do for them, rather they should ask, "what can I do for the system."

Raid on treasury

The Michigan House is currently considering a proposal for the reorganization of the Michigan Court structure.

This necessary and overdue attempt to resolve the duplication of effort which exists between Detroit's Recorder's Court and Circuit Court, could consolidate the two and result, over the long run, in improved service at lower cost. But the lawmakers do not want to end it there.

As the result of political pressure from the Michigan Judiciary, our lawmakers included in that reorganization bill, an item labeled a 'tie-bar' plan which will grant the state's 555 judges whopping pay increases.

The 'tie-bar' plan approved by the House would pay lower court judges a percentage of what justices of the Supreme Court are paid.

Justices of the state court of appeals would be paid 97 percent of the Supreme Court justices' pay; circuit court justices would get 94 percent; probate court judges would get 88 percent and district court judges would receive 84 percent.

While the plan does resolve problems associated with the non-uniform salary levels, judges are paid by both the state and local units of government alike; the formula being discussed by the House represents nothing short of a raid on the treasury.

At a time when the President has asked us to observe 7.7 percent pay increase guidelines, our lawmakers are considering granting some judges, increases of up to 84 percent.

While we at Associated believe that the reorganization of the state courts is overdue, we also believe that the present formula being discussed, a formula that would make all our judges independently wealthy, smacks more of politics than public service.

We see no reason why any pay increases must be attached to the reorganization bill.

All of our judges have sought the elective positions they now hold, and they sought them at the salary now being paid.

House eyes meat inspection costs

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

Two important state services are threatened by a lack of federal matching funds.

One is the nutrition program for senior citizens.

The other is the state's meat inspection program.

In both cases, there has been action in the Legislature asking Congress for needed additional funding for the programs.

Funds supplied to the state under the federal Older Americans Act finance a nutrition project which included hot lunches and "meals on wheels" for senior citizens in Michigan.

Unfortunately, a resolution adopted by Congress cut the federal funds for Michigan by some $93,000 because the state's senior citizens population has not grown as fast as in other parts of the country.

If these funds are not received, social service and nutrition service money for senior citizens will have to be cut by about 25 percent in Michigan. This would, among other things, eliminate about 7,000 hot meals per day for older Michigan residents throughout the state, starting next October 1.

This comes at a time when the needs of our senior citizens continue to rise as their numbers increase.

Adding to the problem is the fact that Michigan has increased its rate of spending for senior citizens by spending carryover funds from previous years and in response to a court order from a national lawsuit.

A resolution adopted by the Michigan House of Representatives asks Congress to restore the cutback in funds, pointing out the importance of the health and well-being of Michigan senior citizens. This important part of our population should be guaranteed every possible means of maintaining good health. Good nutrition is a vital means of reaching that goal.

We have a responsibility, therefore, to ensure that the nutrition needs of the increasing number of senior citizens are met. Without the program, there are many older citizens, who are trying to get by with small, inflation-riddled incomes, who would not eat properly and not eat the right foods.

There was also a cutback in funds for the state's meat inspection program, which is financed by a combination of state and federal money. The program is run by the State.

Federal meat inspection law is much less strict than state law. The tougher state inspection law was enacted a few years ago by the Legislature when it was brought out that federal law allowed such fillers as animal snouts, ears and lips to be used in lunch meat, hot dogs and sausages. This, the Legislature felt, was not only undesirable, but could possibly lead to an increase in certain diseases in humans.

Under the federal matching fund program, the State of Michigan has, for several years, performed the inspection of meat plants in the State. The result has been a higher quality of meat for Michigan residents.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has informed the State of Michigan that federal funds for the inspection program will fall short by about $220,000 this year.

This is a false economy of federal funds. Without needed federal money, the State meat inspection may come to an end. This would force the federal government to take over meat inspection in the State, at an additional cost of some $2.5 million. It would also mean, because of the lower federal meat standards, that Michigan citizens would be buying lower quality meats.

It is estimated that about 200 custom meat cutting plants in the State would be free from inspection and another 200 plants could be forced to close, eliminating jobs as well as competition.

A resolution adopted by both the Michigan House and Senate urges Congress to appropriate the needed funds to maintain Michigan's meat inspection program.

The House voted to send another message to Washington, this one to the Veterans Administration, urging it to select Fort Custer at Battle Creek as a site for a national cemetery.

Despite its great numbers of veterans and their high achievements in national conflicts, there is presently no national cemetery in Michigan to honor the state's valiant men and women who in their lives served their nation.

The Veterans Administration in the near future will be selecting sites for designation as national cemeteries. Fort Custer is one of the sites under construction.

Since it was established during World War I as Camp Custer, Fort Custer has played a significant role in national defense. Thus, its selection as the site of a national cemetery would carry with it a historic link to armed forces service.

The selection would also be a fitting memorial to the thousands of Michigan servicemen who gave their lives in the armed forces.

The resolution, which is under consideration in the Senate, points out that "Few locales are more appropriate than Fort Custer and few states more worthy of such a distinction than Michigan."

Editor's log

Judges are good...

'but 50 grand?'

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

Three-cheers for the 'tie-bar' plan now under consideration by state lawmakers. If carried to logical conclusions, it could make all of us rich.

For the benefit of non-judicial types who may not know what a 'tie-bar' plan is, rest assured that your local district court judge knows. Especially since he stands to reap a windfall pay increase should the measure be approved by the legislature.

For years, district court judges have complained about the system which established that their salaries would be paid by both state and local units of government. Since many communities have refused to give their judges the full authorized local supplemental money, the system has led to non-uniform state-wide salaries for judges, and it is this non-uniform salary that irks the judges, especially those judges not getting their share.

Well thanks to our generous state lawmakers, those same folks who strangely refused to support any form of tax reform last November, the state's judges are on the verge of having their problem resolved. But as usual, the problem they get rid of, will soon find its way to your mailbox in the form of next year's tax bill.

Provisions of the 'tie-bar' plan which is gaining support in Lansing, provides that the salaries of all state judges be tied directly to a fixed percentage of the salaries paid the state supreme court justices.

With the supreme court justices scheduled to get $60,000 annually, lawmakers would provide state court of appeal judges with 96-percent of that amount, or $58,000. Up from their current $51,000 by 13.7 percent.

Circuit court judges, now getting $42,000 would have their salary set at 94-percent of the supreme court justices, or $56,000, up 33.3 percent.

Probate court judges would get 88-percent of the supreme court pay, and district court judges would receive 84-percent, or $50,000, up 45.2 percent from their current average salary of $35,000. And all of this would happen at a time when the president has asked that all pay increases be limited to 7.7-percent.

Well, if a little bit is good, a lot must be even better. Perhaps our lawmakers should consider expanding their 'grand scheme' to the private sector of the economy.

Editors for example, should by law, receive 96-percent of publisher's salary. Auto mechanics should receive 96-percent of the owner's salary. Assembly line workers should receive 84-percent of the Chairman of the Board's salary, and since the people of Michigan are Governor Milliken's boss, the governor should get 96-percent of the average state-wide wage of Michigan's workers as his compensation.

But I suppose that is going entirely too far.

After all, just who do we think we are anyway? While the scheme to boost the salaries of the state's judges is logical, at least when viewed from the characteristically illogical position of our lawmakers who have a 'money tree' to pick from, this plan embodies just about all the necessary reasons for the state's voters to insist on limiting state spending.

For the state to mandate that equality of pay for judges is more important than a community's ability to pay that salary, is hogwash.

While it is true that some of the state's judges are being paid less than others, the difference represents a local government's obligation to provide input on this important issue.

After all, who knows the judges best? Local government or Lansing?

But even more importantly, the fact that our state lawmakers have even considered this taxpayer 'rip-off' indicates that they have a very low opinion of Michigan's voters.

Another case of special interest versus public interest, with special interest again appearing victorious. And you can bet your bundle that no Michigan court will ever rule this scheme unconstitutional.

Robert Tisch! Where are you?

Seniors want some help

Editor:
Would you like to do something nice for several hundred seniors all at once?
I'm sure you know about the Gardens for seniors program at Eloise.
Well the roads that run through the grounds are made of cinders and when a car goes by, which is often, we get a cloud of dust in our eyes, ears, and of course it settles on the gardens.

A word from you or someone with influence who reads this, might get Mayor Taylor or the Road Commission to send the Brine truck, or whatever they use, to settle the dust on the gravel or unpaved streets.

Is there hope?

John E. Woodcock

Carol Premo

By CAROL PREMO, C.S.W.

Carol Premo, a Certified Social Worker in private practice in Belleville, Mich., will be presenting weekly answers to problems which may have been the source of either joy or pain for some of our readers.

You are invited to ask Carol about a problem or discuss a solution by mailing your letter to: Carol Premo, Associated Newspapers, 47818 W. Huron River Drive, Belleville, Mich. 48111.

DEAR CAROL,

I have a not too unusual problem, but can't seem to come up with any viable solutions.

Since leaving home shortly after completing high school, I've managed to get myself stuck in a futureless job (factory work), married and divorced twice (two children, custody given to my ex-wife who has since remarried), and generally made a royal mess of things so far.

Now at the tender age of 34, I've gotten the idea to return to school on a full time basis and try to make life better for myself. Taking into consideration such things as tuition, housing, most important child support payments, not to mention food, utility bills, etc. Where do I start?

Any suggestions?
B. Fuddled

DEAR MR. FUDDLED,

Congratulations on your decision to start a new life for yourself. Of course, it is not an easy undertaking and I can understand your concerns. It sounds as if you have many financial obligations and that you take them seriously. But, now you want to know if you can handle all your money problems and college too.

In talking with four of the local universities and colleges in this area, it seems that the best place to start is with programs designed for the non traditional student. Most campuses have these programs, which offer a complete range of aides from counseling (including financial) to testing to get you started in the appropriate direction. You can contact any of these non traditional programs by calling the admissions office of whatever school interests you.

In regard to your child support payments, it would be best to contact a lawyer. There have been instances when support payments have been reviewed and reevaluated when the status of the paying parent changes. If you cannot afford the services of an attorney, you can contact the local Legal Aid Society.

You will find there is a lot of work, changes to be made and sacrifices that are hard, but if you really want it, an education can be well worth all of it.

DEAR CAROL,

Writing is very difficult for me, I write left handed because my right is broke. I was in a stupid argument and got in a fight. I cannot control my anger, so when I get mad, POW! I feel bad later, my feelings not just my breaks. How do I stop using my fists first, and then finding I am called a crazy bully?

Fist First

DEAR FIST FIRST,

Sounds like a lot of unresolved anger and hostility. And that kind of anger comes from fear. Fear of pain, fear of being hurt, either emotionally or physically. To always lead with the fists is not a sign of bravery, but a sign of not being able to face it. You had better get some counseling to determine what you're afraid of and get those feelings under control. Contact the Community Information Service at 833-3430 (Detroit) or 800-522-1183 (toll free number) for an agency or therapist in your area. Good luck!

Bored kids make busy mom

By SHERRY WAINES

Some people might say that a lack of imagination causes boredom in children. My mother thought a lack of constructive work caused boredom. If you even looked like you might get bored within the next few hours she had a list of 101 things that needed to be done. We learned real quick never to say, "Mom there's nothing to do."

I have heard so many mothers say "I don't know what I'm going to do with my kids this summer, they are so bored." All I can think of is they should take a few tips from my mother. She is an expert when it comes to curing boredom. Because of her I have never spent a boring moment in my life. The feelings of frustration, anger, clumsiness, loneliness and a lot more have crept into my soul but never boredom.

The way she saw it was, give a kid a friend and he will find something fun to do. It may be something that parents would rather not see their children doing but it's bound to be fun. A parents need to cure boredom is never needed when a friend is around. But send that friend on vacation and presto — boredom sets in.

Here is where my mother stepped in with her "cures for boredom list." She didn't need any coaxing either. The morning after my friends left on vacation (Oh, why didn't they take me with them?) there she would be at the breakfast table telling me what a fun summer we were going to have.

The chores she had all lined up were guaranteed to keep all us kids constantly busy. Mow the lawn, weed the garden, water the garden, pick the vegetables, sell the vegetables, chase the birds out of the cherry trees, pick the cherries, clean the garage, wash the windows, clean the basement, wash the car, wax the car and on and on and on.

Now anybody can give a child a list of chores to do. It's getting them to do these chores that's the real trick.

Here's where my mother shows her expertise. All she had to do was coat these chores in a little guilt and we were all right there willing and eager to do anything she asked.

She had her expressions and lines down pat. My favorite line was where she would stand out on the back porch and say "If you don't want to help me then don't. I've been up since five o'clock this morning and haven't had five minutes to sit down all day, but if you don't want to help me that's okay. I fell for that line everytime.

One day my sister Jane and I were having a discussion on this subject. She didn't understand how our Mother got us to do all chores without too much hassle. When I explained that all mommies use the guilt trick on their children in some form or other; it's one of the best ways to keep the kids in line. She replied, "That's horrible, I'm never going to do that to my children."

I told her "Do you want to make a bet? I said the same thing and I can't tell you how many times I have found myself standing out on my own back porch saying, if you don't want to help me then don't. I've been up since eight o'clock this morning...."

Bumper Hornberger is 'honked off'

What could the federal government possibly do that would get Bumper Hornberger "honked off" enough to scrounge up $6,615 from his family and friends to buy a half-page ad in The Washington Post?

Well, they decided to spend $5.8 million tax dollars on a new housing project that they could have built for a cool million dollars less. That's what.

But then again, they're only our tax dollars. So who cares?

Well, Bumper Hornberger cares. And he asked around for money to pay for this ad to let Washington know he's "honked off." But good.

"The people of Laredo, Texas, would like to thank you, the taxpayers of America, for a gift of $1,000,000.00 (One Million Dollars)," the ad says.

"Recently, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced a new housing project for Laredo. Two final bids which met all of HUD's plans and specifications were: Bid No. 1 — 146 units at $4,800,000.00. Bid No. 2 — 146 units at $5,800,000.00.

"The Mayor of Laredo, the City Council, the Community Development Agency, and the Laredo Housing Authority all went on record as preferring Bid No. 1 (the less expensive bid)," Bumper explains in his ad. The City of Laredo sent its recommendation to the HUD Area office in San Antonio, 150 miles away.

Then what happened? Oh the suspense of it all!

Well, of course, Finnis Jolly, Area Director of HUD "rejected the City recommendation and directed the City of Laredo to accept Bid No. 2 (the more expensive bid)."

When the City hesitated, Bumper explains, "the Area Director threatened a termination of the housing project."

So like good, dutiful, and obedient citizens, the City fathers decided to comply, and accept Bid No. 2, even though it was a million dollars more expensive for the same number of units.

Construction begins in July.

Says Bumper, "We know: that you recently paid federal income taxes. That the U.S. Government has one — and only one — source of revenue: your tax money. That the federal monies which we receive are your tax money. That you send your tax money to Washington and that Washington sends it to us."

"We also know: that the other federal tax you pay is the tax of inflation. That inflation is caused by excessive government spending. That inflation lowers the value of your dollar by 12 percent per year. That a 12 percent tax — across the board — hurts all of you and especially you lower income earning people."

Tongue in cheek, Bumper also reminds us that all of the announced and unannounced presidential candidates in both parties "are all taking big about fighting bureaucrats and inflation. BIG DEAL. What do we care about all of that and all of them? As long as we've got our housing project and your $1,000,000.00 why should it matter to us?"

"Thank you, taxpayers of America, for your gift of $1,000,000.00" he says in closing.

Well, Bumper, hurray for you. We're "honked off" too. Honked off but good. (Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public research institute.)

World softball champs eye Wayne crown

City hosts top women's national teams

Little Caesar's, the world women's softball queens, will defend its Wayne Tournament Title this weekend when some 16 of the finest teams in the nation converge upon this city.

Caesar's, which warmed up by winning the Wayne title before going on to claim the World Championship, "definitely will be the class of our tournament," pointed out Bill Schwartz who, with Al Campbell, manages Big Bill's Sporting Goods-Crestwood Dodge, a local entry.

Schwartz and his organization are the host for the third annual Wayne Tournament.

"Caesar's again has an exceptional team," Schwartz said, "and they'll be the favorite to win. But, as is the case in most tournaments, anything can happen."

The tournament will be staged Saturday and Sunday, July 7-8 at Attwood Park, Howe and Annapolis Rds.

Also at stake is a berth for the World Tournament which will be held over the Labor Day Weekend in Petersburg, Virginia. The winner of the Wayne Tournament will automatically qualify for the world competition. Schwartz said that his team has won a berth by taking the Trenton championship.

Local fans will have a variety of teams to follow over the weekend tournament. Among other teams

The Sports Meridian

His kicks hurt

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Ron Hurd's good looks can be very deceiving. Gentle-mannered, low voice - to the point where you have to ask him to repeat what he says - the blond haired, macho - Hurd literally gets his kicks out of kicking people around a ring.

RON HURD

The 175-pound, 5 feet, 11 inch former Wayne Memorial football star who has biceps that look like they were borrowed from Arnold Schwarzenegger (please, excuse me, Arnold if I didn't spell your name correctly) will be out to kick the heck out of a Canadian, Ken Clark, and there won't be any Westland police around to charge him with assault with a deadly weapon.

You see, Hurd's feet are deadly - that is, when he gets in a ring. He's developed them for a very special kind of sport - kickboxing, a sport that once was popular in France that spread to the Asiatic countries and was rediscovered by Americans who went to war in Korea.

"It's very popular in the Philippines," said Hurd who has a date to meet Clark in the ring Saturday night. "I took it up because I was disillusioned with karate. This sport is everything one would want in the form of complete body discipline."

"You have to be aware of your opponent's arms," continued Hurd, "and, of course, his legs."

The sport resembles boxing with each opponent wearing thickly padded gloves - but the antagonists also can use their feet. And that - the combination of swinging arms and powerful leg kicks - can be awesome.

Along with the Hurd-Clark rematch, (Clark won on a TKO when the two met earlier in the year in Canada) Saturday night's card includes some of the top amateur kickboxers in the United States and Canada.

The action is slated to begin at 7 p.m. at the Multi-Purpose Arena in Westland, Wildwood and Hunter.

When Hurd presented us with his promotional literature about the pending match, I immediately noticed that one of the 60 point, bold face heads had "AMATEUR" misspelled "AMATURE" and was about to point out the "typographical" error.

But, then, somewhere in those crevices of my mind, a warning button came on, after all, I'm not as fast on my feet as I used to be.

Robert Eisiminger, who owns the soon-to-be-eliminated title of athletic director for the Riverview Community School District, is searching for a head basketball coach for the high school. And, with the ANP area producing a wealth of excellent cage coaches, he'll like to tap one of someone from this area for the job.

(Excuse me, folks, for a minute - a mouse just crossed my path and I'll have to get out the trap to nab him. Or her. It got away.)

Anyway, Robert would like applicants to send resumes to Riverview High School, c/o Principal Ernie Mayors, 12431 Longsdorf, Riverview, Michigan, 48192.

Why is Eisiminger going to lose the AD's title?

"As in most other school districts across the state, our student count is rapidly decreasing," Eisiminger explained. "One of the assistant principals will probably handle the job. And since I'm one of the assistant principals, it'll probably be me."

Riverview is also preparing to leave the Class A dominated Great Lakes 8 Conference next year and join the all-Class B Huron Conference. The defection will leave a vacancy that at least one area school is hoping to fill.

Let's leave it at that.

DEBBIE GORSHEK

BETH TRACY

Three Wayne softballers are all-league

Wayne Memorial placed three of its players on the 1979 all-Great Lakes 8 Conference girls' softball team.

The team, selected by the coaches of the league, includes Beth Tracy, Bunny Walker and Debbie Gorshek.

Miss Tracy is one of two catchers named to the squad which includes 13 players. She batted .395 on the season, collecting 17 hits in 43 at bats and scored 20 runs. It is her second appearance as a member of the all-conference team and other stats include 11 stolen bases, 18 runs batted in and 22 walks.

Miss Gorshek successfully hit 23 times in 52 appearances at the plate and finished the year with a .451 batting average. She scored 26 runs and collected 10 RBIs. Debbie, a junior, handled Wayne's left field chores.

Miss Walker had 20 hits in 44 trips to the plate which gave her an enviable .454 batting average. She also scored 12 runs, knocked in 19 and walked 15 times and stole successfully 10 times. Also a junior, Miss Walker played second.

Most valuable player

Trotting into home plate is Patti Siyle whose 15 hits, six home runs and 20 RBIs clinched for her the MVP Award and helped Big Bill's-Crestwood Dodge capture the Rochester New York women's softball tournament championship last week. Ms. Siyle and manager Bill Schwartz' team will be in action this week in Wayne when they host their third annual Wayne Tournament at Attwood Park.

Legion '9' snaps 5 game losing streak

Back-to-back victories over Taylor and Wyandotte ended Wayne Post 111 game losing streak in American Legion baseball last week.

Winless in their first five starts, manager Norm Hoenes' ball club edged Wyandotte 4-3 as reliever Mark Cesarz chalked up the victory. Cesarz took over from starter Mike Taig in the fourth inning and pitched three scoreless innings, fanned three and walked one. He also collected one of the key hits in the game.

Bill James' fifth inning homer for Wayne stood up as the difference in the game. Teammate Tony Balimonte sliced two singles and drove in a run and Pat Kaltenbach also picked up a pair of hits, one going for a triple.

Ralph McKenzie, ex-Glenn hurler, went the distance for Wayne against Taylor to get credit for a 5-4 triumph. He whirled a seven-hitter, struck out four while walking none. Rick Knurek pounded out a single and double, while Cesarz also belted two hits - both singles and Mike Taig collected a pair of base hits for the winners who had lost five straight going into this game.

Mike Malaspina, Taig and Dennis Meixner all singled with two-away to start a five-run rally in the fifth. Then Knurek drove in two more runs with his second hit of the day while Rick Jakolski base hit put the winning runs on the board.

All-Area

Because of space limitations in last week's Associated Newspapers' sports section, photos of two members of the 1979 ANP All-Area high school baseball teams were left out.

The players: Jeff Sergison and Gary DeYonker, whose pictures appear above, were selected by the sports staff as members of that coveted team.

Sergison, a pitcher, and DeYonker, an infielder, contributed to the success of the Livonia Franklin baseball team which captured the Northwest Suburban Conference championship en route to a 19-7 won-lost season.

Flyers nip Master Craft

Zantop's Flyers held off a surging Master Craft to post their first victory in four starts in the Van Buren Township Parks and Recreation women's softball league.

Trailing most of the game after spotting Craft a 9-1 lead, the Flyers erupted for nine runs in their third and seven more in their fifth to win their first game of the campaign.

Winning pitcher Alice Reeves gave up 12 hits, including a triple and sing'e to Nancy Pappas and Else Berhardt. Cindy Wegienka also had an excellent day at the plate for the losers. She latched on to three singles, while Cindy Edmonds belted a single and double which was good for three runs batted in.

Meanwhile, Debbie Richards hammered a homer and double off of losing hurler Alice Anthony who also had problems with Cheryl Barker. Ms. Barker's two hits, including a double, scored four runs. Sandy Lietchy singled and doubled while Carol Wilton had a double and triple and three RBIs for the winners.

Over in the men's league, Little Caesar's exploded for six runs in the bottom of the sixth to break open a close game and win 12-1 over Apollo Expediting. Jack Loria scattered four hits - one each to Dale Harper, Tom Druker, Al Adelstein and Frank Mason to card the victory.

Gary Gorham paced a 12-hit Caesar attack with a single and double which paved the way for three RBIs. Rod Sullens checked in with a pair of two-baggers and Ted Wingrave had two singles. Bill Mida picked up a single and double.

Big & Wags Inc., however, silenced Little Caesar's 12-1 as Burr Stoddard gave up 16 hits, three each to Rod Sullens, Tom Wingrove and Bill Wenzel.

Virgil Biggs latched on to three hits in three trips to the plate and also scored three runs for the winners and Joe Vas had a single and double while Stoddard helped his cause with a pair of singles.

Biggs & Wags didn't have any difficulty with Draw Tite which succumbed to the league-leaders 10-4 behind Stoddard's seven-hitter. Stoddard now is undefeated in three starts on the mound. He also collected two of his team's 12 hits off of loser, Jim Easley. Kos went two for four and Ziggy Zeestrat connected for a single and double which drove in two runs. Daps Dapsi's single and triple brought home three runs.

Draw Tite got a homer and single from Charlie Reinhart and a couple of singles from John Reed.

Burhops Collision came up with six runs in the fourth inning to stop Moose and pitcher Bob Utivich who gave up roundtrippers to Jeff Jenks and Al Wegela. Jerry Daniel drilled two hits and Ken Butler drove in three runs for the winners.

Utivich accounted for two of his team's 12 hits off of winner, Wegela.

Others named to the 1979 team are pitchers: Allison Cole(Riverview) and Anita Murphy(Monroe); catchers - Brenda Lowe(Fordson); infielders - Angel Elhage(Fordson), Mary Wholey(Truman) and Sue Miller(Riverview). The all-conference outfielders are Theresa Montgomery(Riverview), Kari Riopelle(Riverview) and Dawn Larwry(Taylor Center). Lori Williams of Fordson was named the Designated Hitter.

Wayne also placed two on the Honorable Mention list: Debbie Mazurek(first base) and Cindy Dunn(outfielder).

Pittman's: the pit for Village Bar?

Despite their untarnished 12-0 record, Village Bar doesn't dare rest in the Wayne Class B softball league.

One slip and once-defeated Pittman's, which is playing near-perfect (11-1) ball will climb to the top rung.

The undefeated pacesetters kept their one-game cushion by battering the Rangers 12-1 behind the Brewis brothers' five-hitter. Dave Brewis worked two innings and gave up one hit while Marc went five and was tagged for four hits.

Meanwhile, Ken Kerr rapped a homer and Jerry Jaskolski blasted four hits, including a double, to lead the Class B leaders.

Pittman's plastered Daring's 17-0 to keep close on Village Bar's heels. Tom Patterson, Mike Lipinski, Gary Mason and Joe Radley each contributed three hits as loser Jeff Lirkowski was tagged for 17 safeties.

Rick Pittman posted his first shutout of the season.

Rod Ruddy's heroics on defense was the key to B & B's 2-0 demise at the hands of the fourth place team. Ruddy's made it to the .500 mark(.66) for the first time this season thanks to the victory. Bernard LaPorte was the winner while Tom Tompkins was charged with the loss.

Massey Ferguson won its second in 12 starts at the expense of the Explorers who bowed 7-4 to Dick Manderville's seven-hit pitching.

Meanwhile, Burghuff, the Class A league leader, needed a last inning rally to shake off fourth place, Paul's Sporting Goods, 10-9. Trailing 9-7 in that final frame, Burghuff pulled it out thanks to a pair of homers by Dave Conlin who had three hits and three RBIs. Corky Hays chipped in a pair of singles and a triple and drove in four runs.

Dennis Cook, the loser, delivered 16 hits while winner, Joe Kadlec, was tagged for 15, four of those going to slugger Elmer Daniels who sliced four singles and drove home four RBIs.

Hofbrau stayed in the chase by thrashing Unistrut 20-9 as Jim Hubbs missed hitting for the cycle when he failed to single. His four hits, including a pair of round-trippers, chased home six runs. Steve Reitz also homered and had two other hits while Bob Myers laced three singles for the winners.

Jeff Hogan, one of two Unistrut pitchers, drilled a homer and Gary Truskowski had a couple of singles for the losers who are now 5-9 on the year.

The last place Van Born's team surprised third place, Broncos, 12-10, as Keith Drake's bat produced three hits and three RBIs off of loser, Joel Vercomb. Winner Joe Sower also served up four hits to Dan Kempainer whose circuit clout went for naught.

The Class C title race is deadlocked as Tri-City Sports and the Pirates keep battling it out for first place. Both are 9-2 on the season. The Pirates managed to climb up to the top by stepping over Tri-City's 8-6 behind Mike Law's 10-hit pitching. Law got ample hitting support from Jim Gilbrath who homered and had two singles and drove in two runs. Mike Sharp also turned in with three hits while Jeff Tolson and Don Farmer each had two. Tim Rourke sustained the loss. Joe Budreau belted a single and double for the losers.

Sambos picked up its fourth triumph by whipping Woolf Aircraft 13-6 as Bill Bruckner got to loser Darrell Newsome for three hits including a double. Luis Labanino homered for the winners.

Greg Doughty, the winning pitcher, was tagged for a homer by Dan Ramos.

In the only other game, the Possums and ATI each had 12 hits, but the Possums made theirs count for a 9-4 victory. Chris Hathorne had a circuit clout for one of his three hits and John Netherton checked in with three singles while Greg Wellman picked up a single and double off of loser Paul Young who singled twice off of winner Bob Phillips. Bob Rykasky also carded a pair of singles for the losers who are 3-8 on the year.

Tigers place 2 on all-league

Post-season softball honors continue to come in for Belleville High's Suburban 8 Conference girls softball championship team.

Debby Fuller and Laura Houle last week were named to the all-league team which is picked by the 8-coaches of the league.

Miss Fuller, a senior third baseman, led the Tiger battery, while Miss Houle, a junior, was picked as an outfielder.

Linda Spino, a junior, was awarded honorable mention as a catcher.

Belleville broke the title drought at that school by winning the conference title. The Tigers amassed a 15-4 over-all and a 10-2 conference record during the recently completed campaign.

Attention, Tiger tankers

There's only a few days remaining to sign up for the Tiger Swim Club's summer lesson program.

The Belleville-based age group will be holding four-hour sessions for youngsters who are between the ages of 6 to 18 beginning July 9 at the Belleville High School swim pool.

There is a charge of $12 for the 8-lessons which is payable when a swimmer registers.

"In the past we have had lots of success with this summer program, this is why we can offer it now at cut-rate prices," said Pat Gary, head of publicity for the group.

Further information about the Tiger Swim Club may be obtained by telephoning 699-6708 after 3 p.m.

Will golf history repeat?

For the past three years Tom Piscopink(at left) has won the Lenny Anderson Memorial Golf Trophy, awarded to the medalist from Wayne at the City Championship Golf Tournament. This year Piscopink, seen above receiving the trophy from Bill Anderson, Patrolman Anderson's younger brother, will be shooting for his fourth consecutive Wayne as well as third straight tournament titles when area amateur golfers gather at Dun Rovin. Golfers are urged to get their registration blanks in to the Westland Parks and Recreation Department before entry deadline, July 20. The tournament will be held the weekend of July 28-29 at the Plymouth-based golf course.

Come rain, come shine 125 golfers to vie for city titles

Don't let the weather depress you - it never rains on the City Championship Golf Tournament.

Despite the unseasonal weather which caused havoc on the recent high school spring sports season, the reports from Sports Editor Tom Mooradian are "that it never rains on our golf tournament."

"Well, almost never," recanted Mooradian. "In the 15 years the ANP has staged this summer classic, only once has it rained hard enough in order that we had to postpone it. So we held it on subsequent weekends."

Would you believe that that one year it rained, Mooradian was out of town in Paris. He says he'll stick around for this year's tournament, though. The tourney will be staged July 28-29 at the par 72, 6,850 beautiful layout at Dun Rovin in Plymouth.

Class 'A' clamor has exciting ring

Tastee Freeze softball followers are wondering how much longer the second-place team is going to look up at The Bee Jays who are atop of the Wayne Parks and Recreation Women's Class A League.

The Bee Jays have a slim one-game edge over their arch rivals who have dropped two of nine games as compared to the frontrunners' 10-1 won-lost record.

When and if the two title hopefuls meet, the collision could produce the 1979 league champion.

Meanwhile, Tastee Freeze went about its business and annihilated fifth place Jake's Lounge 21-1, then creamed Jack's Sports, 20-0.

Mary Trayer fired a five-hitter in the 21-1 verdict over Jake's. Beth Tracey paced the winner's hitting assault on loser Marge Sens who gave up four hits, including a double and six RBIs to the Wayne Memorial slugger. Wendy Reynolds drilled a homer, two doubles and a single for six runs batted in, and Debbie Kaszar belted a pair of singles and clouted a roundtripper over the against the losers.

burnee had a perfect five-for-five at the plate and knocked in four runs. She scored an equal number of times. Teammate Kim Schwartz chalked up three hits, including a triple and had four RBIs. Theo Sand, Trayner and Kim Podgorny all had three hits for the winners.

Joan Donnelly and Joyce Moore split four hits — all singles — for Jack's.

In other Class A action, Cindy Martell scattered eight hits as J & D

Auto drove past Jack's 3-0. Rita Johnson hammered a homer, Mary Stein and Cheryl Ingalls each got two hits.

Martell gave up two hits to Marcinak, while Kim Gross got a three-bagger for the losers.

Unistrut scored nine runs in the first inning and went on to defeat Dino's Pizzeria 14-9 as winning pitcher Rose Ruffing helped her cause with a single and homer. She also drove in four runs.

Loser Chris Morris singled and doubled. Jan Merritt had two hits which counted for five RBIs.

J & D Auto's Martell gave up six hits, two of those to Lori Leverenz as the auto shop overpowered Ernie's Towing 18-1. Stein had four hits, including a roundtripper, and four RBIs for the winners. Minton checked in with three hits, one going for a triple while Brewis picked up four hits, two of them two-baggers. J & D's Johnson and Bassett turned in with three and two hits, respectively.

Janet Rice had a sensational night at the plate as she drilled four home runs to lift Burghuff to an 18-7 victory over Unistrut. Rice's four roundtrippers chased home a record 11 of her team's 18 runs. Gilbert, Holbrook, Lapier each had two hits for the winners.

Ruffing, the loser, picked up three of her team's nine hits and also drove home two runs. Fargo had two hits and Ziza pounded a triple.

Jack's Sporting Goods broke a 10-all tie in the top of the sixth to take an 18-10 decision from Jake's Lounge as the lead changed hands five times in this duel. Sens, the losing pitcher, served up four hits to Winfield, three to Gross and two each to Preistadt and Moore.

Sens got a margin of satisfaction by raking two Jack's pitchers — Bledsoe and Marcinak for three hits. Perusse checked in with a double and single while Porter's single and double counted for two RBIs.

No one's doubting Alberta Thomas

Up by two games from the rest of the field, Studio Lounge and Alberta Thomas remain undefeated after six games in the Westland Parks and Recreation Women's Softball League.

And it appears the two are destined to swing it out to determine who'll wear the crown.

Studio jumped on the Unlimited for nine runs in the first inning and went on to trounce their rivals 15-2 to keep its share of first place. Meanwhile, Alberta Thomas shut out Rocco's 24-0 behind winning pitcher Cheryl Chomiuk's eight-hitter.

No one's doubting that Thomas is a serious title contender.

Mary Trayer held Unlimited to three hits, giving up base hits to Sandy Clarke, Wendy Cahill and Janet Baird to chalk up the victory.

Ms. Traynor helped her cause with three hits, including a double and scored three runs. Losing pitcher Barb McRoberts also gave up two hits to Mo McIntosh and Nancy Bauman.

Rocco's, riding in a two-way tie for third with J & D Auto's, learned it was no match for Albert's powerful lineup which pounded out 24 hits off of loser Sharon Stolaruk who couldn't stop the torrid hitting of Cindy Lillis, Rhonda Dreher and Karen Lowery.

Lillis slammed five hits — all singles — and drove in four runs. Dreher also had four RBIs on three singles and a double while Lowery's three hits produced two RBIs.

J & D Auto lost ground to the pacesetters as it bowed to Johnnie's Shell 11-2. The losers got their share of hits - 14 - off of winner Sheryl Schaffer, but couldn't bunch them together. Schaffer gave up two hits apiece to Rita Woods, Pat Gross and Cindy Nance.

Meanwhile, losing pitcher Shelly Arner got into trouble early as Johnnie's scored four times in the first inning, pitched up two more in the second and went on to breeze to victory. Shaffer sliced three hits to help her cause and teammates Karen Austin and Trudy Doberko split four hits and scored four times between them.

Studio survives scare, 16-15

League-leading Studio Lounge scored in the bottom of the eighth to pull out a narrow 16-15 victory over Jamie's to cling to its precarious one-game lead in the Westland Parks and Recreation Class A men's softball league.

Jamie's refused to quit after spotting Studio a four-run lead in the first inning. The losers came back with four runs in the second and took an 8-6 edge in the top of the third before Studio countered with a seven-run bottom of the third rush.

Winning pitcher Dennis Rowgowski gave up 24 hits, two of those over-the-fence homers to Chris Murphy who finished the night with four hits and three runs batted in. Lee Calloway also hammered a homer and checked in with three other singles. Vern Westerlund had four singles for the losers.

Jerry Jaravella, Charlie Petrillo and Bill Pierce led the attack against loser Lee Calloway. Pierce doubled and singled twice, while Jaravella turned in with four singles and Petrillo had three hits.

Studio also decimated Dearborn Real Estate 33-3 as Rowgowski drilled a homer over the fence for one of his four hits. Jaravella also remained hot at the plate as he slammed a pair of triples, a couple of doubles and a single for four RBIs. Dennis Jonner chipped in three doubles and a single.

Meanwhile, Larry Michalik drilled two of Dearborn's eight hits.

In other Class A action, Hiwayway exploded for eight runs in the first inning and went on to crush The Disciples 16-2 as winning pitcher Steve Patterson hurled a six-hitter. Tom Bronsink got two of those hits.

Dave Wyrabecwicz paced the winners as he blasted two triples and had a pair of singles against Bill Disch. Jeff Hodgkins had a couple of doubles and a single while Norm Beasley picked up a single, double and triple. He just missed hitting for the cycle.

Leaseaway of Detroit rallied back after Metro Maintenance scored six times in the third inning to take a 6-3 lead, but two Leaseaway runs in that inning, plus three more in the fifth and a sixth inning decisive run gave the Detroiters a close 9-8 victory.

Ron Coleman was charged with the loss as he served up 14 hits, four

Westland Blue Division

Warriors remain perfect

The Warriors continued their rampage in the Westland Men's Blue Division as they routed the last place Roeder's Tropical, 13-4, for their sixth consecutive victory.

Chuck Ruthig connected for three hits, one an over-the-fence homer off of losing pitcher Gary Kowalske who gave up a total of 20 safeties. Ernie Comini also homered for one of his three hits and John Hughes slammed three singles.

For the losers, Joe Richardson, Cal Sailor and Brady Rice each had two hits.

Meanwhile, Ken's Standard stayed one game behind the frontrunners thanks to a lopsided 19-2 victory over Interstate Transmission who trailed 12-1 after three innings in this one.

Cliff Davidson collected three hits off of losing pitcher Rick Powell who also served up three hits to Dean Morrison and Dave Treachler who blasted one over the fence.

Bob Follow scattered seven hits, two of those to Terry Johnson and a double to Dan Amann to chalk up the victory.

Jake's Lounge, trailing at one time by as much as 12 runs, rallied for eight runs in the last of the seventh to jolt Local 25, 15-14 for their third triumph in five starts.

Local 25 wasted an excellent hitting effort by Matt Graf who hammered out a pair of doubles and singles and drove in two runs. Ken Walton and Matt Klechhoe each had three hits for the losers.

Losing pitcher John Hrabosky had his problems with Jeff Canutte who slammed three hits, including a double and scored three times. Ron Hays and Moe Fitzgerald split four hits between them. Winning pitcher Al Pulk was tagged for 20 hits.

Meanwhile, the Community Organization league lead remained in a two-way tie for first place as the Postal Employees and the WAOA emerged with victories last week. Each sport 4-1 records.

The Post Office stamped a 20-3 loss on the JC Blue Chips' record as winning pitcher Cliff Orr held his rivals to a mere six hits, one of those, however, was a homer by Bob Beike, Chuck Memzie also tripled off of Orr.

Losing pitcher Chuck Pickering served up four hits to Jim Tromeur, including a homer, and a double. Pickering also was hit hard by John Molinen and Paul Tabake who had four and three hits, respectively.

WAOA scored six times in the first inning, then had to hold off a determined JC Gold Chips' team who came within two of pulling it out. WAOA's 10-8 victory gave them a share of first place with the Post Office.

George Gillies, Phil Matinez and Bob Kaump each had three hits for the winners. Mike Kehrer homered and doubled off of winning pitcher Bob Kost. Tom Alves and Bruce Thompson split four singles for the losers.

In the only other Community Organizational game, the Dad's Club picked up its second victory of the campaign at the expense of Westland Hockey 18-10. Mike Sigler, Norm Sorenson, and Dan Gorshek, who homered and drove in three runs which led to Dave Winn's demise.

Meanwhile, winning pitcher Hank Blayer had his problems with Gary Naumoff, who homered, collected two doubles and a single. Randy Griffin missed hitting for the cycle, getting all but the homer to fill the straight. Dave Gronan who had four hits also drove in two runs.

Studio Lounge survives scare

Barry Kenyon collected three singles off of winner Darrel Gunter. Charlie Myers and Mark Lee each had a single and double.

Jamie's managed to put down an upset-minded Abbey Roadhouse which erupted for six runs in the top of the seventh in a 9-7 defeat. Winning pitcher Tony Pilarski had held Abbey scoreless for six innings after giving up a run in the first.

Vern Westerlund socked two over-the-fence homers and had three RBIs, while Barry Anderson had three hits. Bob Goodlow homered and singles for the winners.

Winning pitcher Tony Pilarski gave up three hits to Roy Taylor, two each to Bob Lukic and Roy Jiff.

Leaseway came up with five runs in the top of the seventh to edge P & P Distributors 17-15 in their second encounter of the season. Losing pitcher Bob Shar, smacked for 20 hits, served up three hits to Mike McGill, three to Jeff Pizzutti who also missed hitting for the cycle when he failed to get a homer. Mark Williams connected for three hits, including a double.

Vince Porcelli had a homer and two singles for P & P while teammate Dennie Niedy checked in with three hits and Roger Finch doubled twice and tripled off of winning hurler Darrell Hunter.

Joe Lee and Dave Collins slammed over-the-fence homers as second-place Hideaway ripped Abbey's 15-8. Losing pitcher Frank Cohan also gave up three hits to Dave Barrows.

Rick Wolfe got to winner Dave Wyrabkiewicz for three hits and Bill Kemet smacked a two-run homer.

Joe Thomas exploded for eight runs in the bottom of the sixth to whip Metro Maintenance 14-2 in a game called because of the time limit.

Joe Cooley scattered five hits, two of those to John Murray, to chalk up the victory. Loser Charlie Meyers gave up three hits to Gary Knapp, Randy Temple and to Cooley who had three successive doubles.

Jamie's Jack Bingamen held P & P Distributors to four hits while his teammates pounded out 26 against Bob Sharp as Jamie's won a 21-0 verdict.

Westerlund again unleashed an awesome hitting attack as he pounded out a homer, two doubles and a single which were good for four RBIs. Piscopink had four hits and three runs batted. Bob Andrews finished the night with three singles and a double.

It's Johnny's

Minor leader post 5th win

Animal Farm drew first blood by running up a 2-0 lead, but that didn't faze league-leader, Johnnie's '76 who came back and exploded for five runs in the fourth and went on to post its fifth consecutive victory, 10-3, in Westland's Minor Red Division.

Pitcher Chuck Howton gave up one less hit than his counterpart, Don Yanick. Yanick scattered 10 hits, two each to Mike Henry, Chuck Henry and Floyd Carter — sounds like the area football coaches got together to form a softball team.

Rick Sharp and Phil Raney homered for Johnnie's while Yanick helped his cause with a single and a double.

Meanwhile, Quo Vadis also remained undefeated with a 10-2 victory over J & D Auto. It was Quo Vadis's fourth straight victory in as many starts. They scored four times in the opening inning, then after J & D cut their lead by two runs in the fourth, the winners put it away with a six-run rush in the bottom of the sixth.

Winning pitcher Mark Bjerk gave up 11 hits, two each to Jim Creekmore, Rick Abbott and Kevin Morine.

Loser Larry Holt was tagged for three singles by Keith Morton while Bob Bray and Bjerk each had a single and double.

They managed to bounce back and bury Extra Point Bar 16-5 behind Holt's seven-hitter which included a homer and double by Ed Shafike and a pair of hits by Cliff Morgan.

Bob Perkoz blasted a triple and homer off of loser Tim Clemenden who also gave up two doubles to Earl Williams and a single and double to Rick Abbott.

The County Mounties broke a four-game losing streak at the expense of Golden Spike Lounge 18-1 as winning hurler Bob Blackmore tossed a six hitter. He served up a run-scoring double to Jim Green which ruined his bid for a shutout.

Blackmore helped his cause with four singles and two RBIs off of loser Ken Hamilton who also gave up three hits to Bill Durkee and Jim Rafalski.

Over in the White Division, Westland Party has at least four teams — Jamies, All-Star Sports, Progressive Metal and Town & Country breathing down its neck.

All-Star Sports rattled Castelli Realtors 22-3 as Bob Dehart batted in six runs thanks to a homer, triple and a pair of singles. Carl Swain and Mike Walker had three and two hits, respectively.

Swain, the winning pitcher, gave up two hits to Mark Pimlot and also two hits to John Gracke, one going for a homer.

McCurdy's Optical erupted for 12 runs in the second inning to bury Hamm's Bears 23-7 for its second victory in five starts. Losing pitcher Tony Kierschke was tagged for four hits by Rich Dittmar, three by Don Miller and Doug Schaffer who also tripled. All three players accounted for two RBIs.

Meanwhile, Hamm's got on the board thanks to Dave Jones's four hits, two of them going for two of them going for two-baggers. Gary Lubinsky and Erik Radcliffe each had two hits off of winner, Tom Dilauro.

Quotes worth quoting...

"A violent criminal is just somebody who is too dumb to exploit any of the dozens of legal ways of being dishonest."

Sydney J. Harris said it.

Summer means cold drinks

Celebrate the season with a buffet that's easy on the hostess with this attractive centerpiece — a punch bowl full of Lemony Pineapple Punch. A combination of lemonade flavor drink mix, pineapple juice and sherbet, it's

Two for the punch bowl

There's still time to revel in the outdoors, soak up some sunshine, retreat to a shady nook and celebrate the summer with a backyard fiesta. So gather together good friends, good food and lots of thirst-quenching beverage and drink a toast to the season.

Keeping a canister of Country Time lemonade flavor drink mix on your kitchen shelf assures a ready supply of satisfying beverages for round-the-clock needs. Simply prepare according to package directions and enjoy refreshing lemonade flavor, knowing too, that each 8-ounce glass of the prepared beverage provides 15 percent of U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance of Vitamin C.

When a festive occasion calls for a festive quencher to serve a crowd, the drink mix provides the base for Lemony Pineapple Punch, a delicious combination of lemonade and pineapple flavors with sherbet. It looks good and tastes even better. For another crowd pleaser, you'll enjoy Strawberry Tangler, a chilled lemonade flavor carbonated beverage enhanced with frozen strawberries.

Let your punch bowl be the focal point of your buffet table, as your guests come back for second helpings and an assortment of cheeses, cold meats, fresh vegetables and relishes.

Lemony Pineapple Punch

6 scoops (1½ cups) lemonade flavor drink mix
1 can (46 oz.) unsweetened pineapple juice
2 quarts water
1 pint orange or lime sherbet

Combine drink mix, pineapple juice and water in large punch bowl, stirring until drink mix is dissolved. Stir in sherbet and garnish with lime slices, if desired. Makes 1 gallon or about 24 servings. Two-thirds cup each.

Strawberry Tangler

3 scoops (¾ cup) lemonade flavor drink mix
1 quart water
1 package (10 oz.) frozen strawberries in quick thaw pouch
1 can (12 fl. oz.) club soda, chilled

Combine drink mix and water in glass or plastic pitcher. Add strawberries and stir until berries separate. Just before serving, add soda. Makes 1½ quarts or 12 servings.

Infant 'stars' at baby shower

A special baby shower was held June 24 at the Hilton Airport Inn of Romulus, the guest of honor being tiny Valerie Renee Paris.

The party was planned to honor Valerie's mother, Vickie Paris of Westland, but having made her debut into the world five weeks early, Valerie shared honors with her mother, even to a corsage of pink rosebuds, duplicated in miniature for the occasion. Valerie is the first child for Vickie Paris and her husband, Gary, residents of Manila Street.

Guests came from Westland, Wayne, Belleville, Romulus and Flat Rock, to the luncheon for 30 hosted by the baby's grandmothers and aunts, who chose an appropriate pink and white theme for the occasion.

The baby girl, born June 6, was center of attention as she held court from her dainty decorated bassinet.

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

The rest of us have adjusted fairly well to our new surroundings but poor old Pinger (he's our Welsh Springer spaniel) is having a dickens of a time.

Not only has he ventured forth (twice dragging his chain and twice sans shackles) — and met the nicest, most tolerant folks — but he's STILL straining at the leash.

The unfamiliar critters here are driving him to distraction and no sooner does he adjust himself to coming face to face with a visiting deer (the same doe keeps BG glued to the window each A.M.) but then he's actually challenged by a woodchuck of gigantic proportions right there in his own domain. To say nothing of those skittery little ground squirrels, the patter of whose little feet is slowly sending old Ping right around the bend!

We'd thought our newfound peacefulness (utterly so) would bring him contentment in his declining years. But guess he misses his thrice-daily duets with the Norfolk and Western train whistle and the hypnotic (maddening) ding-ding-ding of the crossing gates more than we figured. He's constantly moaning and groaning about something and we've decided he just was too set in his canine ways for the transition.

A NICE ADDITION — The new brown and beige awning accenting the windows at The Pump 'n Pastry certainly adds a pleasant, and somewhat continental, touch to downtown Belleville. Coupled with the plantings of colorful geraniums, the setting makes one wish there were sidewalk tables at which to dunk one's donuts.

KNOW WHAT? America's first patriotic song, "Yankee Doodle," was actually written by the ENEMY! It was composed by Richard Shuckburgh who served under Gen. Braddock of the British army. (Just a bit of Fourth of July trivia.)

About to take off on a motor trip with the kiddies in tow? Plan ahead for a more pleasant time with games and pastimes to keep them occupied and, thus, from being bored and restless.

The Cooperative Extension of Wayne County has provided us with several good suggestions which you'll find elsewhere in the Suburban Living section. Give them a try.

Something that always worked for our travels was providing the girls with those yellow legal pads and several soft-lead pencils. From there they just did their own thing and it was the ideal way of doing some of the Extension games suggested.

We also used to furnish them with maps of the area we were traversing as well as thick felt markers and let them keep track of the route by marking it with their pens.

For the games, I provided pennies or nickels (for bingo) and, if time permitted, would get out shopping and find small prizes which we wrapped and awarded for the harder games.

I've a super recipe to share with you today — a relative of the quiche clan — which I kitchen-tested on BG's summer appetite tonight. It's light but ample and with a fresh fruit salad and iced tea was plenty for a warm June evening.

Found "Rice Quiche" in a gourmet magazine (I think it was "Cuisine") and it was rather fun to create. Plus — a 9-inch pie gives us enough for still another meal. I'll be freezing it as soon as it cools. Hope your family will like it, too.

RICE QUICHE

1 cup hot cooked rice (I used regular, not Minute since I find it adheres better)

1 egg, beaten
two-thirds cup finely shredded Swiss cheese
3 eggs

1 can (13 ozs.) evaporated milk, undiluted ½ teaspoon salt
pinch of nutmeg, sugar and cayenne pepper
1 package (3 oz.) wafer thin sliced ham
¾ cup shredded Cheddar cheese.

1. Mix rice, 1 egg and Swiss cheese. Press in 9-inch pie pan. Refrigerate until ready to fill.

2. Beat 3 eggs, milk, salt, nutmeg, sugar and cayenne pepper. Stir in ham and Cheddar cheese. (Directions did not say what to do with ham so I tore it in pieces but next time would cut it a bit smaller to make cutting a little easier.) Pour into crust.

3. Bake 15 minutes in preheated 400 degree oven. Reduce oven temperature to 300. Bake until table knife inserted half-way between center and edge comes out clean, about 30 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before cutting.

There've been some changes made (LOTS of 'em) since our move southwestward. One of the biggest has been BG's garden, once a showcase of greenery which drew many compliments.

From about a third of an acre, his green thumb antics have been reduced to a "patch" of garden — much more sensible for just three people — but oh, such a transition from the lushness of old.

Having had to start with "virgin" soil, he's still contending with stones of all sizes as he hoes or rototills the rows. We can have zucchini tomorrow, though, June 28, (please note, F.G.) and the head lettuce is firming up nicely. One special tomato plant we received as a housewarming gift, has golfball-sized promises on it and the broccoli is lookin' good, too.

Compensation for the mini-garden comes in the view BG has as he pauses between stone-tossing and chopping — actual "amber waves of grain" which corner on the north-west. A gorgeous sight to behold!

THINKING OF buying a used car? One of the important things to check for besides the usual mileage, tire condition and "extras" is signs of rust. Examine the body carefully for the worst of all culprits and also look at the underside (frame, cross-member).

Be alert for signs of repainting and use of body putty to disguise areas where rust has already done its damage. If it's a station wagon, take out the spare tire and examine the tire well. Also lift the mat on the floor in the third seat area and check for rust and metal weakness.

In other cars, lift the mat in the trunk. Also, lift the carpeting in the passenger area and be suspicious of musty odors. Before buying, drive the vehicle through a car wash to check for leaks.

THE BOTTOM LINE: Resorts are secluded places that people flock to in great numbers to avoid each other.

Have a safe and fun Fourth of July.

Gondeks welcome daughter

Father's Day, 1979 will long be remembered by Stan Gondek of 12727 Evelyn Ct., Belleville since that's the day his first child, a daughter, decided to make her debut.

Mrs. Gondek, the former Valerie Pullen, gave birth to the wee baby (4 lbs. - 13 ozs.) at 6:29 p.m. June 17 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Kum-joyn-us class bows out, 51 years after organizing

After 51 years of meeting regularly for Sunday morning Bible Study and other social activities, the Kum-joyn-us Class' present and former members of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville met as a group for the Worship Service Sunday, June 24. A fitting recognition was arranged by The Rev. Joy Arthur.

A request for retirement by Merle Touse, teacher, was accepted and tribute was paid to both him and Mrs. Touse. The class will discontinue their regular meetings.

Memories of some of the many activities over the years were recalled by Winifred Gault, Ed Hoff and Esther Deering. Mr. Hoff gives much credit to the class for its welcome and the inspiration he and Mrs. Hoff received to assume the responsibilities of the Handicap Ministry initiated in the Ann Arbor District by the late Rev. Roger Amett.

More than 30 of the classmates met in the Fellowship Hall for a salad luncheon and for the renewing of acquaintances with former members from Homer, Taylor, Trenton, Wayne, Ypsilanti and Belleville.

Lioness Club planning sale

The next project for the Belleville Lioness Club will be a garage, rummage and bake sale at 354 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville. The 2-day sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. July 13 and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. July 14.

Lioness Club invites you to come see what it has to offer. All profits will be used for community works and to assist the blind and hard of hearing.

The club's recent hearing clinic was very successful and because of the good response, the women are looking forward to helping everyone in the area again next year when it conducts its 2nd Annual Hearing Clinic.

Control weeds in home gardens

A weed-choked garden is no treat to the eye. But a neat appearance isn't the only good reason for keeping weeds under control.

Nancy Butler, Washtenaw Cooperative Extension Horticultural Assistant, points out that weeds compete with desirable plants for food, water, growing space and, if the weeds are tall enough to shade the other plants, even sunlight. Weeds may also harbor insects and disease organisms.

Unfortunately, the tilling we do to prepare the soil brings buried weed seeds up where they can germinate. And the watering and fertilizing we do to promote the growth of our crops benefits the weeds, too. So, we have to weed out the plants we don't want.

For most gardeners, chemical weed control is not an option. There is no one herbicide that can be used on the variety of crops in most home gardens. Several chemicals would be required, each one with the potential for harming some crops.

Safer — though requiring a bit more effort — are the cultural methods of weed control: cultivating and mulching.

Hand pulling weeds or chopping them off just below the soil surface is especially practical in small gardens. Dig weeds out when they are small — less than three inches high — and remove them from the garden so they can't take root again and continue to grow. Cultivate as often as necessary to keep the garden relatively weed free. Don't wait until the weeds take over. At that point, reclaiming the garden for the crops can be such a mammoth chore that it's very easy to give up.

Mulching takes less time and effort than cultivating. Mulching — covering the soil surface with plastic, grass clippings, leaves, compost, straw or some other material — stops weed seeds from germinating and smothers existing small weeds. Organic mulches — those made from once living plant materials — should be applied after plants have been set out or when seedlings reach about four inches in height. Two to three inches of mulch should be enough for weed control.

Several thicknesses of newspaper can also be used for mulch, as long as they're anchored securely so they don't blow around.

Black plastic used for mulch should be put down before transplants are set out. Anchor it with soil, rocks, bricks, boards or some other material. Then set plants into the soil through slits in the plastic.

An advantage of mulching over cultivating is that mulching needs to be done only once in the season. Mulches also help keep the roots of plants cool, hold moisture in the soil and keep crops free of mud splatters. Organic materials may also be plowed into the soil in the fall to enrich it. Black plastic, of course, must be picked up at the end of the season.

On the other side of the ledger, mulches sometimes promote pest problems. The cool, moist conditions under a layer of mulch are ideal for slugs, slimy little creatures like snails without shells, which can severely damage garden plants. If slugs are a problem in your garden, it might be better to control weeds by cultivating rather than mulching.

Using some mulches — like sawdust, corn cobs, paper pulp, straw or shredded bark — may cause nitrogen deficiencies in the garden. As soil bacteria break these materials down, they take up nitrogen from the soil, making it unavailable to crops. Add a little extra nitrogen fertilizer to make up for this.

Other mulches — like grass clippings and straw — may be the source of large numbers of weed seeds. Grass clippings brought straight to the garden from the lawn may also carry herbicide residues that can harm garden plants. Avoid using clippings within two weeks of spraying with a lawn herbicide.

MISS DAY

Karen Day is teen pageant finalist

Among those selected as finalists in the Miss Michigan Teen U.S.A. Pageant is Karen Ann Day, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Day of 42691 Savage Rd. Belleville.

Miss Day is sponsored by the Belleville Rotary Club, Daly Drive In, Roland Bros. Heating and Cooling and Newburgh Heights Dental Clinic of Westland.

Trophies are awarded for the five top contestants as well as Miss Congeniality, Miss Photogenic and speech and talent winners. The new Miss Michigan Teen U.S.A. will travel to New Mexico in November to compete in the national finals.

The program is intended to develop the youth of the community, state and nation into becoming outstanding citizens.

Heather Rene is her name

In the nearby city of Wayne, there's a new baby girl being lullabyed these early summer days at the home of Randy and Lisa Birdwell of Eastlawn Street.

The 9 lb., 12 oz. infant, who was named Heather Rene, was born May 31 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Birdwell and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, all of Romulus, and the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Margaret Taggart of Mt. Airy, Iowa and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Birdwell and Mrs. Mamie Huddleston, all of Tennessee.

Gear cooking to cook-site

Like animals, outdoor meals should take on the flavor coloration of the cooksite. Meals in the out-of-doors may include balcony barbecues for couples or a festive barbecue spit-roasted in the backyard for family and friends.

Outdoor meals range from picnics — packing foods for a brown bag bash in the park or at the beach — to carting the cooler stuffed with foods to keep the family fed from noon 'til night.

Campfires are used to fry fish and broil meats while landlubbers enjoy creative cookery from a can while trailer blazing during the warm weather months.

Creating casual summer meals is a breeze when the cooking is taken out of the kitchen to the backyard barbecue.

Backyard Barbecuing

ROTISSERIE RUMP ROAST

6-8 servings

4-5 pound rump roast (high quality)

Insert rotisserie rod lengthwise through center of roast; secure meat on rod with holding forks so that it is balanced and turns only with rod. Insert meat thermometer making sure it does not touch rod or fat. Cook over medium-hot coals 1½ to 2½ hours or until desired degree of doneness. Serve with Sour Cream-Blue Cheese Sauce.

SOUR CREAM-BLUE CHEESE SAUCE

Yield: 1¼ cups

1 cup dairy sour cream

2 tbsp. red wine vinegar

½ tsp. dry mustard

½ tsp. sugar

¼ cup crumbled Blue cheese

Combine sour cream, vinegar, mustard, sugar and Blue cheese. Heat, stirring constantly, until warm. (Do not boil.)

GRILL-BROILED CHICKEN WITH SEASONED BUTTER BRUSH-ON

6-8 servings

½ cup (1 stick) butter

¼ cup lemon juice

1 tbsp. (½ envelope) garlic salad dressing mix

2 broiler-fryer chickens, quartered

Melt butter; blend in lemon juice and salad dressing mix. Brush chicken with seasoned butter. Place on grill, cut side down, 5-6 inches from coals. Cook about 1 hour; turning and brushing with seasoned butter about every 10 minutes.

NOTE: If chicken seems to be cooking too fast, move grill farther from coals or spray a little water on coals to lower heat.

CHILI CORN

6-8 servings

½ cup (1 stick) butter

¼ cup chopped green pepper

2 tbsp. chopped pimiento

1 tsp. salt

½ tsp. chili powder

6-8 ears corn

Whip butter until light and fluffy. Stir in green pepper, pimiento, salt and chili powder. (Yield: 1 cup) Place each ear of corn on a square of double thickness heavy duty aluminum foil. Spread with about 2 tablespoons butter mixture. Wrap securely in foil, twisting ends. Roast directly on medium coals 10 to 15 minutes, turning once.

NOTE: Foil-wrapped corn may be baked in a preheated 450 degree oven, 25 minutes.

Games for traveling

Having the kids along on a vacation is fun, but they often get bored when in the car very long.

Here are a few games to keep them occupied:

License Bingo: Each player makes a bingo card with nine boxes. Mark each box with a two-digit number, making sure that no two boxes have the same number.

One player watches the license plates of each car and calls out the first two digits on the plate. When a player hears his number called, he crosses it out.

The first player to cross out three numbers in a row, wins.

State Plates: This game may be played throughout the trip. Everyone looks for license plates from each of the 50 states. The person who finds the most plates from different states wins.

Scavenger Hunt: Before you leave on the trip, make up a list of different articles that may be seen along the road. For example: a cow, a pig, a barn, a lake, etc.

Each player is given a list and a pencil. The first person to see an item calls it out loud and then marks it off his list. The first player to see and call all items, wins.

Puzzles: Before leaving, cut out a picture from a magazine and glue it to a piece of cardboard. Then cut the picture into different shaped pieces, with size and number of pieces according to child's age. Your child will have a puzzle to put together on the trip.

Roadside Alphabet: Have the children look at signs along the road and pick out letters from the alphabet in their proper order. As each child spots a letter he calls it out and gets credit. The winner is the child who has spotted the most letters first when the end of the alphabet is reached.

Coloring books can keep your children occupied.

Now that your children are busy, have a good, safe trip.

Dearborn hosts all Ford show

Dearborn will again be the location of a gigantic 3-day swap meet and all Ford car show, sponsored by the Ford and Mercury Restorers Club. This year it will be held in conjunction with the V-8 Club of America's Eastern National Meet. This seventh annual swap meet will be held at Ford Field, on July 6-8.

Last year's record number of 350 vendors already has been broken with a total vendor count on opening day expected to be 400. This year's vendors will come from 20 states and Canada. An anticipated public attendance of 15,000 will find vendors offering both auto and non-automotive related items for sale. The all Ford Car Show will take place July 8 on the grass of Ford Field. Providing a place for all Fords from antique "Ts" to "Mustangs." Trophies will be awarded for each class.

Car Show participants will receive a 3-day family swap meet pass, and a "Dearborn '79" commemorative mug, for their $4 advance registration fee. Registration on the day of the show will be $6. Continuing last year's format, the club will operate the concessions providing fresh hot dogs, pop corn, pop, pastries, coffee, milk and ice at moderate prices. The area surrounding Ford Field offers something for the whole family. There are picnic and recreation facilities adjacent to the swap meet area and downtown Dearborn shopping areas are within walking distance. Ford Field is one mile west of Southfield on Monroe, two blocks north of Michigan Avenue. There is an admission charge of $1 per adult. For Flea Market information, contact Bob Guetschow, 21604 Bennett, Detroit 48219, or call 531-1382. For car show information, contact Rick Jones, 1115 Dewey, Plymouth, 48170, or call 313-459-4236.

Craftsmen to 'invade' Ann Arbor

July is a month for heat, humidity, vacationing, and of course, Ann Arbor's ninth annual Summer Arts Festival. 700 members of the University of Michigan Artists and Craftsmen Guild will exhibit in booths on East University and Main streets during the festival.

This year's event will take place during the fourth week of July, from the 25th through the 28th.

The Artists and Craftsmen Guild, composed of University of Michigan students as well as artisans from Ann Arbor and throughout the country, will offer work ranging through glass and leather work, ornaments of precious metals and stones, fiberworks, drawings and paintings, pottery, and fancywork. Banners, designed by University of Michigan student, Nancy Lewis, will adorn the booths, distinguishing each Guild craft for the Arts Festival goer.

All Artists and Craftsmen Guild members will display goods which are the "handcrafted, original design and work of the exhibiting artists from beginning to end", in accordance with Guild guidelines.

"The Silent Critic", a life-size image of an "ideal" Arts Festival patron will be created by each of two teams of exhibiting Guild members vying for honors. The contest, planned by Guild intern, Kevin Green, will be judged for originality of form and concept. (Who is the "Silent Critic"?) Construction of the "patrons" will take place on Main Street at Liberty, and the north end of East University.

In the same locations, musical ensembles and individual musicians will alternate with Guild artist demonstrations from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily under blue and white striped canopies.

Special activity areas for children complete the roster of special events during the ninth annual Summer Arts Festival.

A complete schedule and update of these events will be available at a later date from the Guild office and at information booths during the festival. As in past years, a shuttle bus will be provided by the Ann Arbor Public Transportation Authority, from parking areas into the festival grounds. Festival hours are from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. July 25-27 and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. July 28.

Children concerts planned

Meadow Brook Music Festival has expanded its Children's Concert Series this summer to include several unique programs, designed especially to interest and amuse youngsters.

On Saturday, July 21, the Oakland Youth Symphony, conducted by Erv Monroe, will present a concert which includes Britten's Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra, "The Amazing Symphony Orchestra," a newly arranged piece by Monroe that focuses on the creation of mood in music will be performed. State Sen. Jack Faxon of Detroit will narrate.

An exciting introduction to the ballet for young people is scheduled for Aug. 11, when "The Gingerbread Man - A Ballet for Children" is presented. This is a world premiere performance featuring an original score by Martin Scot Kosins and choreography by Michelle Levine. Music is by The Pastiche Wind Quintet and narration by Faxon.

The Saturday morning programs will begin at 11 a.m. and will run approximately one hour with no intermission.

All concerts will take place in the outdoor Baldwin Pavilion on the Oakland University campus in Rochester. Tickets for Saturday mornings are $3 each and may be purchased at the Meadow Brook Box Office.
